Dear Congressional Leaders,

Government Accountability Project and the undersigned 174 organizations write to seek your leadership in protecting individuals with best practice anti-retaliation rights for reporting law enforcement misconduct in any justice reform legislation regarding policing. Legislation without proper accountability makes laws unenforceable, which can intensify community backlash and become magnets for cynicism and resentment. This need for accountability and enforceability is why Congress included whistleblower protection in over 60 federal remedial laws, including 16 times unanimously since the start of the millennium. Now the same standards outlined by Congress previously must be applied in all policing bills for those reforms to be credible.

The truth is changing the course of history. Unfortunately, accountability in law enforcement remains a major challenge. Accountability-free abuses of power have become a way of life, and for current reform proposals to work as intended, they must have effective measures protecting those who bear witness in order to enforce the law against law enforcement officers who break it. Video footage has led to a national reckoning, but sometimes it takes more than a smartphone to protect and defend victims of police brutality. In many cases, accountability requires testimony from those willing to bear witness, which are often fellow officers and law enforcement personnel.

However, the “blue wall of silence,” compounded by the lack of anti-retaliation protection for law enforcement, forces law enforcement officers to risk their careers, safety, or even their lives when they choose to blow the whistle. That is why we are asking Congress to include whistleblower rights in police reform bills.

How can whistleblowers make a difference enforcing police reforms? Their testimony could turn citizen rights into reality for major safeguards such as:

- the ban on chokeholds;
- controls on other deadly force;
- expanded liability;
- pattern and practice investigations;
- oversight of mandatory body cameras;
- restrictions on no knock warrants;
- controls on transfer of military equipment to state and local police;
- open and transparent forensic crime laboratory operations;
- accurate and complete information for a national registry; and
- an oversight record based on the whole truth for all oversight and enforcement.

Whistleblowing for law enforcement is “committing the truth,” because they are treated as if they had committed a crime. But the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth is the foundation for legitimate reform. There can be no higher priority than protecting those who provide it.

Sincerely,

Government Accountability Project
